National Home Infusion Association Launches Home & Specialty Infusion Fellow Program

Alexandria, Va. (July 15, 2020) – The National Home Infusion Association (NHIA) has launched a Fellow Program (FNHIA) for experienced home and specialty infusion professionals. The program, sponsored by the National Home Infusion Foundation (NHIF), aims to advance the home and specialty infusion industry profession through practice, excellence, and leadership.

This prestigious new fellow program will recognize the contributions and achievements of highly accomplished home and specialty infusion professionals. As part of the program NHIA Fellows, in addition to receiving the honor and credential for being in the program, will have the opportunity to work with selected industry professionals to foster and promote mentoring of future industry leaders.

“We are excited to announce our fellow program. As part of our mission to advance the home and specialty infusion industry, it is paramount that we recognize industry leaders and utilize their skills and expertise to assist the next generation of leaders,” said NHIA’s President & CEO Connie Sullivan, BSPHarm.

Individuals in clinical and non-clinical roles in the home and specialty infusion industry are encouraged to apply for FNHIA. Minimum criteria for the program include membership in NHIA for at least five years, at least seven years of direct work experience in the home and specialty infusion profession, a record of industry contributions to NHIA, NHIF, or other industry-related organizations, and three letters of recommendation.

Applications are due September 15 and those admitted will be notified of their acceptance December 2020.

NHIA is a trade association that represents companies that provide infusion therapy to patients in their homes, as well as companies that manufacture and supply infusion and specialty pharmacy products. The association’s mission is to provide advocacy, *education, and resources to the home and specialty infusion community so the patients they serve can lead healthy, independent lives. Infusion therapy involves patient-specific compounded medications, supplies, and a range of pharmacy, nursing, and other clinical services for delivering care to patients in the home setting.
